

Sprouts are a local young children's drama company who run after school sessions for 4-11 year olds. The power of imagination can create infinite possibilities, and we use this ideal within our games and exercises as an aid to personal development.

At Sprouts we love to play, and at the centre of all our activities is an emphasis on fun and freedom, but within the exercises lie useful skills that children can build on and take into other areas of their life; in the classroom, in the playground and in new social situations.

Each term we have a fun and imaginative theme that we explore. We learn a dance, a couple of songs, and maybe a poem too. But most excitingly we head off on an adventure, picking up our story each week we have mysteries to solve, people to help and problems to overcome!

We run sessions for the 4-8 age group in Nuthall at the Temple Centre on Wednesdays after school, from either 4-5pm, or 5-6pm. Contact us to book in a taster session!
